

Sodium Lauryl Ether Sulfate 70 (SLES 70)

Sodium Lauryl Ether Sulfate (SLES) is a surfactant commonly used in personal care products, such as shampoos, soaps, and toothpaste, to create foam and help clean. It's derived from coconut or palm oil and is known for its ability to remove dirt and oils.